

Most recent month-end performance follows the most recent quarter-end performance.

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results; current performance may be higher or lower than performance quoted.

Investment returns and principal value will fluctuate and Shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The Shares performance reflects fee waivers, absent which, performance would have been lower.

Note: Not all products available through all firms.

The ETFs are speculative and involve a high degree of risk. An investor may lose all or substantially all of an investment in any of the ETFs. Commodity and currency futures generally are volatile and are not suitable for all investors

The ETFs are not mutual funds or any other type of Investment Company within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and is not subject to regulation thereunder. To download a copy of each ETF prospectus please visit <http://www.invescopowershares.com/prospectus>.

Market price returns are based on the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4 p.m. ET and do not represent the actual returns an investor would receive.

ETF performance since inception and index history since inception are based on the ETF inception date. All other index history is based on the index publication date.

An investor cannot invest directly in an index.

Index history has certain inherent limitations and does not represent actual trading performance or returns of the ETF. Index history does not represent trades that have actually been executed and therefore may under or over compensate for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as illiquidity. No representation is being made that the ETF will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to the Index history. For a complete list of risks associated with an investment in the ETF, please see the prospectus.

All ETFs seek to track the Optimum Yield Excess Return versions of their respective indexes. Results for the Optimum Yield Total Return version of each fund's relevant index, which consist of the Optimum Yield Excess Return index return plus the 3-month United States Treasury securities return, are shown because each fund collateralizes its futures positions primarily with 3-month United States Treasury securities

The DB Liquid Commodity Index - Agriculture is a rules-based index composed of futures contracts on some of the most liquid and widely traded agricultural commodities - corn, wheat, soybeans and sugar. The DB Liquid Commodity Index - Industrial Metals is a rules-based index composed of futures contracts on some of the most liquid and widely used base metals - aluminum, zinc and copper (grade A). The DB Liquid Commodity Index - Optimum Yield is a rules-based index composed of futures contracts on six of the most heavily-traded and important physical commodities in the world - crude oil, heating oil, gold, aluminum, corn and wheat. The DB Liquid Commodity Index - Energy is a rules-based index composed of futures contracts on some of the most heavily traded energy commodities in the world - light sweet crude oil (WTI), heating oil, Brent crude oil, RBOB gasoline and natural gas. The DB Liquid Commodity Index - Crude Oil is a rules-based index composed of futures contracts on light sweet crude oil (WTI) and is intended to reflect the performance of crude oil.
